UNDER THE BAN.-H arper & Brother, o New York, have published a translation of a work which has created in France the greatest theological "sensation" since the publication of Renan's "Life of Jesus," and which has also been widely read and discussed in England and Germany. It is entitled "Under the Ban (Le Mandit), a Tale of the Nineteenth Century, Translated from the French of M D'Abbe" *

Under the form of a novel the work 'assails with conspicuous ability, and from a Catholic point of view, the Jesuits. The spirit of the book may be gathered from a sentence or two from the chapter on "The Two Popes." "In the Empire of the Ro-Two Popes." "In the Empire of the Roman Church, which comprises, it is said, 200,000,000 subjects, there are two kings. The one is visible to all, and Is called the Pope. He is enthroned at the Vatican, with cardinals, chamberlains, prelates and gnards, arranged like stage-dancers in a drama of the infeenth century. The other is the real rulor. He is established at the Gesn, and is called the General of the Jesnits. He is the head of an association the most united, the most energetic, and the most powerful in the world. * * He is the Richelien of Catholicism; the other ir its Louis XIII."

The work is written with a masterly eommand of all the resources of narrative, description and controversy, and cannot fail to make a deep and wide impression in the United States. The writer discriminates between the Catholic Church and what he considers its corruptions. To the first he assumes to belong, and in its true interest he insists that his work is written. THE LEGISLATURE.

On Mouday last, the 30th ult., a long discussion arose in the House, on the report of the Committee on Court of Appeals, in re-CIVILL & CALVERT'S gard to the case of Judge Bullitt. That Committee reported a resolution, that the Committee appointed to investigate the charges against Judge Bullilt be instructed to inquire: First, whether his absence from the State be voluntary or constrained; Second, whether or not he is or was a member of the Society known as the Sons of Liberty; and if so, Third, whether such Society is of a treasonable character and hostile to the cause of the Union; and Fourth, that said Committee report the facts to this General Assembly, together with the testimouy takeu; and also, by resolution, either exonorating Judge Bullitt or recommending such proper action as they may deem expedient, either by impeachment or removal by address.

One of the parties so engaged is fresh from the enemy, and has not probably even in form renounced his citizenship with those whose cause he is promoting. We seem to think it wise to allow such, without restraint or hindrance, to sow tares among straint or hindrance, to sow tares among the wheat, to attack our Bovernment from day to day, to denounce Congress, to denounce the Executive, to deery our prospects, to instigate people to resistance, and to advocate the return of the Yankee yoke.

The urticle closes as follows:

Shall the Government leave society, in times of great excitement and alarm, to be agitated by acts of bad men, the fears of timid men, and the evil example of calculating men, without any attempt at preven-tion or restraint?

Shall we allow these demoralizing exhibitions and influences even in the higher walks of odicial station? That is what it is doing. We believe much in moderation, and conciliation, and torbearance, but there s a limit to every thing, and there is a time for every thing. We think great harm has been done by those public men who haveso zealously contended for all the indulgences of peace in the time of a tremendous war; who have held it more important to retain sense of hearing the same effect as the lessure of hearing the same effect as the lessure of hearing the same of hearing the hearing the same of hearing the same of hearing the same of hearing the same of hearing the hearing the same of hearing the same of hearing the hearing the hearing the same of hearing the heari templation of the Constitution, than to de-teat Grant; and who; have deemed it more essential to shield bad men who teach se-

Bad men should no more be allowed in times of excitement and peril, to run riot through the country like madmen, with blazing torches in the stackyard, than to teach revolt in the camp. alleged hostility of the English governing classes toward our country, he says: That the members of our aristocracy and hierarchy are nuimated by an inevitable antipathy to American institutions, and that this antipathy has broken out on the present occasion, is an undeniable fact, and one which I have never attempted to concoal. But the governing classes, in the only practical and relevant sense, is that which decides the conduct of the nation. Repeated propositions have been made by fanatical supporters of the rebellion, with the French Emperor at their back, for hostile intervention, and upon all these propositions the "governing class," in the effective sense of the term, has put an curphatic

Couisn Alice. This name is familiar in the homes of the 'nited Stales, where the stories of Mrs. Alice B. Haven have delighted and instructed so many. In her memoir, recently published, we have a spirtual potrait, with its inner condicts and the unfolding into a deeper and richer Christian life. To the world at large she is known as a gifted writer; to her acquiantances she was brilltant, sparkling and vivacious—sometimes m oody and impulsive. To her more in-timate friends she was drawn by the devo-tion and graces af affection, while in her journal, where she poured forth the secret thoughts of her soul, there is the picture of inward struggle for a pure and devon

Never indulge thyself in luxuries that are not necessary.

16. Do all things with consideration: and when thy path to right action is most difficult, feel confidence in the Power which alone is able to assist thee, and exert thy own powers as far as they go,"

Starting with these wise maxims she did not fail to improve. As life's trials grew heavy, and new struggles arose, she grad-ually deepended into Christian trust and hope, so that when her last hours came. they were rich in Christian consolations. JOHN JACON ASIOR.

A hundred years ago, in the poor little village of Wuldorf, in the duchy of Baden, lived a jewial, good-for-nothing butcher, named Jacob Astor, who felt himself much more at home in the beer-house than at the street of the willage. At the best, the butcher of Waldorf must have been a poor mau; for, at that play, the inhabitants of a German village enjoyed the luxury of fresh meat only on great days, such as those of confirmation, baptism, weddings, and Christmas. The village itself was remote and insignificant, and though situated in the valley of the Rhine, the native home of the vine, a region of proverbial fertility, the immediate vicinity of Waldorf was not a rich or very populous country. The home of Jacob Astor, therefore, seldem knew any medium between excessive abundance and extreme searcity, and he was not the man to make the superfluity of to-day provide for the need of to-morrow, which was the more unfortunate as the periods of admindance were few and far between, and the times of searcity extended over the greater range of searchy extended over the greater part of the year. It was the custom then in Germany for every farmer to provide a tatted pig, calf or bullock against the time of harvest; and us that joyful season approached the village butcher went the round of the neighborhood, stopping a day or two at each house to kill the animals and convert their flesh into bacon, sate ages or salt beef. During this happy time Jacob Asior, a merry dog, always welcome where pleasure and hilarity were going forward, had enough to drink, and his family had enough to eat. But the merry time lasted only six weeks. Then set in the season of searcity, which was only relieved when there was a testival of the Church, a wedding, a chrit-ening, or a birth-day in some family of the village rich enough to provide an animal for Jacob's knife. The wife of this idle and improvident butcher was such a wife as such en usually contrive to pick up-industrious, saving, and capable; the main-stay of his house. Often she remonstrated with her

Senator from California.

He bore the reputation of an ambitious, somewhat unsempulous, bold man; and consorted chiefly with the roughest of the slaveholders in Congress. When these seeded and rebelled, Dr. Gwyn was confidently expected to join them. He set out from San Francisco, as was supposed, for that purpose, and was arrested on the steamer by Gen. Sunnaer, who brought him a prisoner to New York. When he was released, he went first to Wushington, and laleased, he went first to Wushington, and later, it was reported to Richmond; but little has been known publicly of his movements for the last two years. He was born in 1805, and in the property country to the control of the last two years. The works will be printed on a greatly improf paper, and while it arly all American Periodicals are illior advanced in trite or reduced in size—and very genrally both -we shall continue to give faithful copies of all the marker contained in the original editions. Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnishe!, as those of any of the comp tire periodicals in this country.

Compared with the cost of the original editions, which,

at the present premium on gold, would be about $100 a year, our praces ($15) are exceedingly low. Add to this the fact that we make our annual payments to the British Publishers for early sheets and copyrig' 1 in told—$1 costing us at this time (January, 1850 nearly $2.20 in currency—and we frust that in the scale we have adopted we shad be entirely justified by our subscribers and the reading The Interest of these Periodicals to American readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on our $C(rd, War_r)$ and, though sometimes those with prejudice, they may still, considering their great ability and 1 e different stand-points from which the are written, be read and stu-jel with advantage by the people of this country, of every creed and party.

PLACED UNDER AUBEST, - A medical commission, consisting of three persons, arrived here a week at to ago for the purpose of examining into the condition of the hospitals in the city and vicinity, and of sending all patients (d. for service to their commands. The commission visited nearly all the different hospitals and ordered a great many patients who were not deemed by the surgeons in charge of the hospitals in a condition to be sent away, to be sent to their regiments. The fact that a man was able to move about was accepted as evdence that he was in a condition to go to his contnamil. The commission would not take the trouble to examine the caudition of a patient. These facts were represented to the War Department by surgeons here and as a consequence the gentlemen comjosing the commission have been placed under arrest. An order to that effect was received from Washington two or three

They show us that we have brought the enemy to consider peace, which at no previous time during the last four years he would be even stop to talk about. Heretafore his language has been no parley with trailors, no terms but submission. But now he sends one, two and three missions, and has consented to permit Mr. Stephens and others to come to Washington, when three years since he was sent back at Fortress Monroe. The Whig has a similar article. It thinks compromise is possible, but not probable. In the North peace means reconstruction and reunion, and under the impression of its approach gold falls. In the South peace means separation and independence; at teast that is the general if not the universal meaning. The lact that peace rimors are coincident with the marked lall in gold, shows that Sonthern opinion on this subject is precise antithesis of Northern opinion, until the two opinions begin to lose their antagonism and tone toward the common significance of negotiations.

The People's Journal of Health has an rticle with this fearful title, which is an tack on wall paper. The writter says:

DEATH IN THE WALL.

"A good clean paper is certainly more pleasant to the eye than a fissured and sun,ty wall whose scales of lime are con-tinually pealing off and soiling every garment which comes in contact with it.

"And if a proper selection of paper is made, and there be no other lining of similar stuff beneath, it is not only more pleasure to the sense, but is almost equal to the whitened wall. But here—is—the difficulty. As a general rule, one coat of japer is put on over another, as the last gets too unch soiled to look well, until several layers cover the original surface, thus often producing an actual cause of disease. "A few years since we occupied a house built some twenty years before, in the old English style, strong and solid, so that it seemed almost as good as, or better, than new. We were gravely told that one room n it had seemed to be fatal to its occupants. One of the first things which received attention was this ill-reputed appartment. It was a north room, so situated that a few slanting rays of sunlight peered into a eorner of it for a short time only a portion of the year, entirely avoiding it for months together. Well, here surety was cause of its unhealthulness, but not enough. After heavy velvety green paper, but not only this, for upon peeling off n small section with a knife, another green layer was found may be adopted; the President has no right to carry on the war one hour after yet another. The mystery was solved. The cause of the evil was evident. Nothing would have induced us to sleep in that apartment. None could tell how much of the element of disease that thickly papered wall had retained. None knew how much of death there was in that papered wall! It seemed as if it gave ont a positively sicken-ing odor, now; and its entire removal speedily followed. Thereafter, though not have any hidden dangers or terrors, lurking to poison the fauntain of life.

"It is a safe rule to choose patterns of walt paper without green colors, especially those heavy greens which so please the eye, for they contain an active poison, inimical to life, and it is always highly improper to place one layer of paper over another. Better submit to the dirt and annoyance of having the last soiled paper entirely removed, Better man, M. The Nick Longworth came down from

Cincinnati vesterday morning in the mail ime, with a very heavy freight, as will be seen on referring to her manifest. She encountered, soon after leaving Cincinnati, a good deal of very heavy ice, but came through sefely, and had up steam last night to return again as the regular evening ter lay about noon with the mail, and full of passengers, being the first mail-boat from this port for a week. The river is now pretty clear of ice, and navigation may be considered as fully resumed.

The Gen. Buell is the regular morning free mail-boat for Cincinnati and the East to-lay. She starts at noon, and Wm. Tay-for, the attentive clerk, tickets passengers through to the East.

The Major Anderson will be down from

she returns thither in the evening, as the regular evening packet.

The Tyrone and Fanny Brandies were preparing to start for Nashville last night. They are under orders, and would descend the fells.

Cropper, Patton & Co. reveived a dispatch from the Robert Moore at Cincinnati yesterday, aunonucing that she was on her way down, bound for Nashville. Passengers and shippers can bear her in mind.

St. Charles For New Orleans.-Passengers and snippers must bear in mind that the new clipper packet St. Charles takes her departure to New Orleans to-day. She starts positevely at noon from the Portland wharf, in charge of Capt. Jas. E.

Portland wharf, in charge of Capt. Jas. E. Sage, a thoroughly experienced and very popular boatman, with Messrs. Ford and Morris in the clerk's office.

The St. Charles is an entire new, stanuch caft, and one admirably adapted to the trade, having unsurpassed cabin accommodations, great motive power, a clipper model, ample capacity for freight, and large, roomy guards for stock. With her good qualities, and the deserved popularity of her officers, she will become a first favorite in the trade and with the traveling and shipping public.

The rates of pound freights to New Orleans are $1 per hundred pounds, flour $1.25, pork, &c., $2 per barrel, cattle $20, and sheep $2 per head. Saratoga, bound for New Orleans,
